SUSTAINABLE SEAFOOD
Monday, March 2, 2009
5:30 to 7:30 pm.
Aria Trattoria, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.

We have the chance to offer you a unique opportunity. On Monday, March 2, the chefs who will be participating in the Smithsonian's "Savoring Seafood" event on Friday evening March 20 have been invited to an educational forum hosted by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, SeaWeb, National Marine Sanctuary Foundation, and the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History. This session, entitled "Sustainable Seafood: What is it Really and How Does it Affect My Bottom Line," is being presented for the chefs and their staffs. After the forum, we are joining with this illustrious group to hold a sustainable seafood reception and you are all invited!!!

Come rub elbows and share a glass of wine with some of Washington's best known chefs; among those invited to this event are many of your favorites – Jeff Black, Jeff Bubben, Ann Cashion, Roberto Donna, Scott Drewno, Andrew Evans, Todd Gray, Matt Hall, Kate Jansen, Bob Kinkead, Rob Klink, Ris Lacoste, Jamie Leeds, Tracy O'Grady, Cedric Maupillier, Janis McLean, Nora Pouillon, Michel Richard, Barton Seaver, Jim Swenson, Jeff Tunks, and Rob Weland. Chef Xavier Deshayes of the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center will prepare delectable seafood treats for us.

Note: seating is limited, so please book early; the restaurant is wheel chair accessible; and there is free parking in the garage after 5 p.m.

Send this reservation form with your check payable to The AIWF to Carolyn Margolis, 2440 Virginia Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20037; refunds will be given for cancellations received by 6 p.m. February 26; questions, call Carolyn at 202-633-1140 or email her at Margolis@si.edu .

Be sure to stick around afterwards for dinner at Aria Trattoria and sample their regional Italian cuisine; call 202-312-1250 to make reservations.
